

Wings to Fly SAFEGUARDING ADULTS POLICY

We will endeavour to ensure that vulnerable adults are protected from harm while participating in our clubs/sessions or in other situations where we are involved. We will do this by:

1. Making sure our personnel and volunteers are carefully selected; through an interview, two references and a DBS check is sought, where appropriate.
2. Taking all reasonable steps to ensure the health, safety and welfare of any vulnerable adult in contact with us.
3. Reporting to the Designated Officer i.e. the Wings to Fly Safeguarding Lead any evidence or reasonable suspicion that a vulnerable adult has been physically, emotionally or sexually abused whilst in contact with us.
4. Ensuring that people are aware that we have a Safeguarding policy for vulnerable adults and where policy copies can be obtained.

Code of Behaviour for all personnel

People working with us must always observe the following requirements where vulnerable adults are concerned. You should always:

- Uphold the spirit and specific provisions of the Safeguarding Adults Policy and these Guidelines.
- Do your best to behave in an open and friendly manner, but avoid being over familiar in word or action.
- If a vulnerable adult is hurt or distressed, do your best to comfort or reassure them without compromising their dignity or doing anything to discredit your own behaviour.
- Try to avoid any physical contact or behaviour that could be unwelcome or misconstrued. Physical touch should only be in response to a vulnerable adult's need and should respect their age and individual stage of development.
- Where you have to rely on your own judgement, always treat the vulnerable adult's welfare as paramount.
- You have a strict duty never to subject any vulnerable adults to any form of harm or abuse.

Support in exercising your best judgement

If you witness, or suspect, abusive behaviour towards a vulnerable adult, you should use the procedural guidelines that follow. We all appreciate that this may call for fine judgement and even courage. If you are in any doubt as to what to do then you should in the first instance contact the Designated Officer i.e. the Wings to Fly Safeguarding Lead who will be able to provide you with the necessary advice.

What to do if someone is being violent

If you come across someone hitting, hurting or violently shouting at a vulnerable adult, you should try to prevent the abuse, if you can do so without unreasonable risk to the person or yourself.

- You have to judge whether it is a fleeting incident, which warrants showing your disapproval or a threat of actual harm that requires someone to intervene. This can be even more complicated if one vulnerable adult is being abused by another.
- So long as you are mindful of the person's welfare, you are entitled to intervene by:
 - Asking or telling the perpetrator to stop.
 - Explaining that such behaviour is not acceptable.
 - Restraining and preventing person from abusing another.
 - Saying that you will report the incident - as a matter of fact, not a threat.

Summoning help

- Notify Social Services on 0345 60 80 191, or if it is an emergency situation contact the police on 999.
- Asking the perpetrator to leave the property or club.
- While you have to be firm, it can only help if you are calm. Bear in mind that you are properly dealing with a distressed adult.
- Never use or threaten physical force as this could inflame the situation and result in further violence.

If you suspect a colleague or receive an allegation of adult abuse it is your duty to report your suspicions to the the Designated Officer i.e. the Wings to Fly Safeguarding Lead. It is not your responsibility to investigate your suspicions. Nor should you concern yourself with looking for evidence of abuse. This requires expertise you are not expected to have; your role is to respond appropriately.

If a vulnerable adult makes a disclosure to you about abuse not involving our personnel, it is not your responsibility to investigate any disclosure. Your role is to respond appropriately and to report what you have been told to the the Designated Officer i.e. the Wings to Fly Safeguarding Lead, who will make the judgement if it needs to go further.
